

IoT Australia SUMMIT

Wednesday, November 8 2017

Kirribilli Club, North Sydney

IOT AUSTRALIA SUMMIT is the new one day conference on all things Internet of Things.

The summit has two objectives:

- To showcase network and service solutions from telcos who are servicing the needs and requirements of Internet of Things users.
- To identify the use cases for the Internet of Things across significant industry verticals in the Australian economy .

Our one day summit will feature keynotes from the assistant minister for cities, Angus Taylor (invited) as well as peak officials from the Internet of Things Alliance Australia and Communications Alliance. The event will be made up of panel sessions employing a free flow exchange of ideas and opportunities for audience participation.
