

COMMSDAY SUMMIT SYDNEY 2026

Fullerton Hotel, Martin Place
June 2/3, 2026 (with pre-summit events June 1)

Australia's pre-eminent telecommunications industry conference, CommsDay Summit, will return to Sydney this June for its 25th edition, taking place at the Fullerton Hotel on June 2-3. Planning for the Summit is well underway and we wanted to share an early update on the program.

For the first time, the Summit will open with a pre-Summit reception on the evening of June 1, providing an additional opportunity for delegates, speakers and sponsors to connect ahead of the main conference proceedings.

CommsDay Summit brings together Australia's most senior telecommunications leaders: the CEOs of major network operators and retailers, senior executives from leading global technology vendors and the heads of the country's telecom regulatory agencies and co-regulatory bodies.

Around 400 delegates are expected to attend, representing a who's who of the people shaping Australia's communications sector. The Summit has long been known for its ability to combine senior representation with an environment that remains compact enough to allow genuine conversation and effective networking.

PRE-SUMMIT MONDAY FORUM: The Summit will also host a special pre-event symposium on restoring the reputation of the telecommunications sector, developed in conjunction with the Australian Telecommunications Alliance. The session will bring together industry and policy leaders to discuss how the sector can strengthen public confidence at a time of heightened regulatory, political and consumer scrutiny.

The Summit has traditionally been the setting for major industry announcements and keynote addresses from Australia's telecom leadership. The program will again reflect the issues currently shaping the sector, including industry sustainability, the maturation of 5G and fibre networks, the implications of artificial intelligence and the growing energy demands of digital infrastructure.

If you attend only one telecommunications event in Australia this year, this should be it: the country's leading telecom conference held in its largest city.
